New park pays homage to farming roots

JAMIE STEWART

The Shafter Press

A new park at Gossamer Grove pays homage to Shafter's farming roots.

Farm Park was opened with a ribbon-cutting ceremony last month, with residents getting to check out the new facilities, including a ball court, a dog park and a landscape that resembles a farm.

It is replete with rows of plants resembling rows of crops, with farm equipment displayed on the site, giving kids an up-close look at a farming landscape.

The 3.25-acre park was designed by

SHAFTER

WSLA, in collaboration with landscape architect Jim Stebbins. It was designed in tribute to the agricultural history of the city of Shafter. The farm concept is reflected in rows of crop-like shrubs with meandering paths cutting through the farm and play area.

The playground equipment is constructed with depictions of things found on a real farm. A large central pasture provides open play on grass and is surrounded by a path

Committee looking to successful Rose Festival

VERONICA JACUINDE

Wasco Tribune

The Wasco Rose Festival is back and set for Sept. 10. The theme for this year is the Wizard of Oz's "No Place Like Home," symbolizing the festival's return to the weekend after Labor Day.

"This will be a great event, as we get over covid. People are ready to spread their wings again and get back to normalcy," said Rose Festival committee member Juan Gallardo. "It is a good way to enjoy the day and will be an amazing time. It

$1M grant to electrify Wasco transportation

VERONICA JACUINDE

Wasco Tribune

The California State Transportation Agency awarded the City of Wasco a $1 million grant for its Improving Air Quality and Economic Growth with Bus Electrification project.

The grant money will be specifically used to purchase three electric buses and the infrastructure to charge them.

"This way, we will be able to expand the capacity of our transit system, which is our Dial-A-Ride service. With this money, we hope to hire additional drivers and add more to our hours of operation for the residents," said Councilmember Alex Garcia.

While the grant will pay for most of the project, the remaining cost will be piecemealed together from various transportation sources.

"Our staff will continue searching for the remaining funding required to get the project off the ground," Garcia said. "I imagine we would be able to pursue transportation dollars through Kern COG [Kern Council of Governments], our county's transportation clearing house for funding from the state and federal entities," said Garcia.

The grant is significant because the city is the only municipality in Kern County to receive an award in this round of funding.

"We were eager and ready to seize the opportunity when it came around, and I believe that's why the state picked our application," said Garcia. "At City Hall, we are always looking for ways to expand Wasco's quality of life services."

Workshop to address trash collection changes

JAMIE STEWART

The Shafter Press

Two workshops are set to discuss the new three-cart trash collection system that is being implemented later this month in the city of Shafter. The do's and don'ts of the system will be reviewed, with representatives from American Refuse on hand to answer any questions.

The first will be Thursday, July 15, from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. at Mannel Park and another workshop on Saturday, July 16, at Veterans Park, from 9 to 10 a.m.

The change also includes the elimination of alley service in the city at the end of the month, with all trash pick-up service to be done curbside. This is going to require many households to make changes to their properties, or require residents to get their carts to their curbside, and put the cans away out of sight of the street when not on a collection day.

This has caused a protest by several residents that claim the change will cause them undo stress, and costs, changing the process in place when they purchased their homes. "My house was built with the premise of there being alley service for the trash containers. To get my property accessible for curbside pickup, I am facing a cost of $5,000, and I guarantee you that this will not happen," former mayor Gary Nelson said at a recent City Council meeting.

Those with questions about the requirements of the new three-cart system are encouraged to attend one of the workshops scheduled.

The three-cart system is a part of the state's SB1383 law that is aimed at reducing organic waste that ends up in the city and county landfills. It makes it a requirement for cities to reduce their waste by a certain percentage or face hefty fines for violation.

Halls Ambulance looking for a few good men and women

JAMIE STEWART
The Shafter Press

Halls Ambulance has an open recruitment period going for their next EMT academy, which begins on Sept. 20.

The Academy prepares individuals in under 10 weeks to start working in the Hall Ambulance 9-1-1 system as an emergency medical technician. An EMT works on the front line of emergency medical services as a first responder, attending to patients and providing safe transport to the hospital.

The academy has training from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday at the Harvey L. Hall EMS Academy, a state-of-the-art training facility.

There are weekly lectures supplemented with hands-on exercises, assessment training, quizzes and exams.

The academy was established in 2001 and since then, it has helped hundreds of people jump-start their careers in the emergency medical services field. Graduates can start a new career earning around $41,000 per year. In addition, according to Mark Corum, director of media services, several graduates have gone on to receive certifications at the Hall Paramedic Academy, which increases their annual salary to about $61,000 per year, plus benefits.

"The company provides a tremendous career path for those EMTs wanting to progress their careers by applying for scholarships into the Hall Academy Paramedic Academy," said Corum.

"Today, several alumni have advanced, becoming paramedics, field supervisors, and even management team members."

The minimum qualifications for the Hall EMT Academy is a high school diploma or GED, a valid driver's license, be at least 20 years of age and have a good driving record.

Participants must be available to work all assigned shifts, which may include nights and weekends, and must be able to lift objects up to 75 pounds.

More information is available at halla-emtcareers.com/emtacademy.

Rosie's Cakes a delicious delight truly is a tradition the community loves and a highlight of their year for many."

There was a festival last year, but it was organized with only three weeks of preparation. This time around, the planning committee is envisioning much more participation.

"Our goal is to have 50 floats," Gallardo said.

The parade will culminate at Barker Park, where there will be food, music, activities, different arts and crafts vendors, and a car show. "We are planning for a petting zoo for the kids with goats, pigs and lambs," he said.

A centerpiece of the festival is the Miss Wasco Rose Queen Pageant.

"These young ladies always add a unique touch to the celebration," Gallardo said.

The committee is in the process of selecting the grand marshalls, and there will be a Wine and Roses event to honor them.

"Our planning committee is strong this year, with each of us bringing our different strengths to the table. We also have the support of Wasco Is and the Orange Heart Foundation, to name a few."

They are utilizing social media to get the word out and have reached out to the local schools, churches and other nonprofits to help.

Gallardo and the rest of the planning committee are grateful for the sponsors, whose contributions ensure the best festival possible.

"We invite the community to enjoy what is among Wasco's biggest celebrations of the year. It will be a lot of fun and a way to shine a bright spotlight on our great town," Gallardo said.

and shade trees. The park accommodates residents of all ages by having a variety of programmed spaces around the open lawn as well as Shafter's first dog park.

The dog park has a statue of a military service dog at its center, paying tribute to the critical role of these animals.

The park has three different fenced-in areas that come with water fountains for pets, as well as waste stations complete with poop bags and receptacles.

The dog park is a wonderful improvement, according to residents of the Gossamer Grove area.

John Borne, a resident in the Gossa-mer Grove area, was at the park earlier this week with his dog, letting him play on the grass and run around the grounds. "I usually keep him around the house, but with the park opening, it is great to have somewhere he can come to run around and play," he said.

Borne is a transplant from the Sacramento area, relocating to the area for work. "I love the area and it has been a great place to live since we moved."

With the last residential phase of the development under construction, the next process is attracting the retail developers to fill in planned shopping and services for the area.

John Borne and his little guy enjoy the new park.

Free rides encourage public transportation

VERONICA JACUINDE
Wasco Tribune

The City of Wasco will offer complimentary rides on their Dial-a-Ride bus for July and August. This special will apply to all those living within the Wasco city limits. "This is a great benefit for residents because people do make use of Dial-A-Ride and not having to pay anything for the months of July and August is a savings for them. They get the benefit without incurring any cost," said Mayor Gilberto Reyna. Dial-a-Ride service is back after a hiatus due to the pandemic, staff shortages and other factors. The idea for the promotion came from Administrative Manager and City Clerk Maria O. Martinez and was approved by the City Council. "I was motivated to help residents, especially post-covid. Kids need rides to the library, pool and other summer activities," Martinez said. "It is an excellent way to give back to the residents. I think it was very innovative on the staff's part to use this promotion to educate the residents about this vital service and hopefully bolster ridership in the coming months," said Councilmember Alex Garcia. The initiative comes with gas prices at record highs and the need to promote public transportation. "On our first day, we were really busy," Martinez said. Garcia added, "Because gas prices are so high, it will make a huge impact for families struggling to make ends meet." The Dial-A-Ride bus serves an essential role in the community, particularly for seniors. "They use our services a lot," Martinez said. She pointed out that the disabled and handicapped can use the service because many cannot transport themselves because their vehicles are not equipped to do so. Once the promotion ends, prices will remain affordable. For general adults, the fee is $1.75; for seniors, $1; and for children, 50 cents. Martinez said the initiative will help many people, and hopefully they will continue to use the service after the promotion. "I hope families take advantage of this offer, especially next month as students prepare to go back to school," Garcia said. Hours of operation are Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., and does not offer services on Saturdays and Sundays. To schedule a pick up, call 661-758-7222.

Jumping into success

Learnin' the Ropes is a non-profit dedicated to teaching and inspiring others through the sport of jump rope. They recently performed at all Wasco junior high schools, including Thomas Jefferson Middle School. The organization is based in Bowling Green, Kentucky. It is run and founded by the husband and wife team Nick and Kaylee Woodard. Since launching in 2017, they have presented to schools, churches, conventions, camps, workshops and corporate events. They have also performed at half-time shows for the NBA, WNBA and college teams. "We adjust our performances to fit any audience. Our school shows work well for any grade level from kindergarten to adulthood," said Nick. Throughout the years, they have presented to almost 100,000 students annually. They partner with schools to enhance their jump rope units and teach PE daily classes. "We also have pre-recorded resources that PE teachers can use to teach their classes while we are not there," said Kaylee. They have several messages they want to get across with their shows. "We like to teach kids and inspire them to be not self-centered but others-centered." "Our central message is to follow your passions and put your all into anything you do. We want to instill in them determination and a passion for life because we know this carries over into the classroom," said Nick. They teach jump rope because of the positive impact that it has had in their lives. "Jump rope as a sport has given us so much joy and opportunity for growth. We hope to introduce the sport to other kids so they too can experience that same joy and growth," said Kaylee. Nick has been jumping roping since 1st grade and Kaylee since 2nd grade. "Once we learned that you can travel, compete and meet people from all over the world, we fell in love with the sport," said Nick. They have performed and taught in over 20 countries, including China, South Africa, Tanzania, Bermuda, Germany and France. Both have won multiple world and national championships. In their routines, they incorporate splits, acrobatics and gymnastics. They have been featured in the New York Times, Good Morning America and Game of Talents, to name a few. Nick has competed in the American Ninja Warrior competition three times. Their goal is for schools to have more jump rope programs. "We want to make it an accessible sport

Nick and Kaylee, with a student, participate in a jump-rope game played with two long jump ropes swung in opposite directions so that they cross rhythmically.

and activity for everyone to participate in," said Nick. Their performance at Thomas Jefferson included audience participation. Julissa Contreras said that she liked the show because it motivated her. "It was inspirational, and I learned I must work hard to go after my dreams," said Contreras. The sport was new to the students. "I hadn't ever tried jump rope, so for them to come and do all these tricks was really fun," said Philip Harrison. "It was also cool that they said you must try and be your best at school and sports." Those that volunteered to participate enjoyed themselves. "I was a volunteer, and it felt pretty good to come out and do something different while my friends cheered me on. It was an example of teamwork," said Harrison. The show was inspirational. "It inspired me to think of all the new things I could do," said Ashley Curiel. "To never give up and follow your dreams even if people doubt you." Principal Danny Arellano said he hoped to bring a special activity to his summer school students. "I wanted them to have a different experience other than just coming to school. The intention was for our students to set goals, never give up and know that it will take determination," said Arellano. To schedule a unique jump rope engagement and for more information, call (281) 743-2375 or visit their website at www.learnintheropes.com.

The grant is moving the city toward more environmentally friendly transportation. Currently, for the months of July and August, residents can ride for free on the Dial-A-Ride bus. "Depending on the success of our current promotion, I'd be the first to enthusiastically recommend that we extend that suspension through the end of the year, given this new funding for our transit system," Garcia said. Revitalizing and strengthening the Dial-A-Ride service is one of many various capital improvement projects the city has been pursuing. Winning the grant was a team effort, with Assistant City Manager Maria Lara taking the lead.

"She has been a rock star in her new role to secure grant funding for community projects," Garcia said. The future is heading toward electric transportation at the state level and now even more so locally for the town of Wasco, especially in light of this grant. "It is going to be a collaboration between all departments. The finance department is always involved when it comes to funding projects, and the city clerk will manage the Dial-A-Ride system," said Garcia. Garcia said he is proud and excited with the direction staff has taken the city. "It speaks volumes of the hard work and dedication the staff at City Hall puts in every day on behalf of our residents."

Blood bank bus makes it easy to donate

VERONICA JACUINDE
Wasco Tribune

The Houchin Community Blood Bank bus was once again back in Wasco. It was a great turnout, with many Wasco residents donating. Those that came understood they were helping to save lives. The event was in partnership with the Wasco Knights of Columbus; Pizza Factory and Iron Valley Fitness were sponsors. The bus comes from Bakersfield every eight weeks, and the attendance gets bigger each time.

“We were happy with the large crowd that came to donate. Every time we partner with the Knights of Columbus, it is a big success,” said HCBB Account Coordinator Stephanie Pimentel.

Mayor Gilberto Reyna of the Knights of Columbus said, “We have been doing this for the last 12 years.”

The Knights of Columbus is a fraternal organization for Catholic men with a mission to serve those in need in the community. It has an almost 100-year legacy of playing a vital role in Wasco.

Together they promoted the event on social media, and the sponsors helped get the word out.

Jesus Aragon said he used to give blood before he got sick. His wife now donates to help others like him.

The process of donating involves a simple questionnaire and a brief health screen to confirm one is eligible. A person can give as young as age 16 with parental consent. There is no cutoff age.

“I tell people on the fence about donating not to be afraid because it is pretty easy, and honestly, I think it’s fun,” Pimentel said.

The staff is also bilingual to help non-English speakers. There was a team of six people running the event, including two phlebotomists, two screeners, a bus driver and a registrar.

Some donors have contributed greatly over the years.

“Today marks my six-gallon donation. I am motivated to be a donor because there is a shortage. My blood type is essential, so it works for everybody,” said Danny Espitia.

Joe Dominguez said, “I am almost to five gallons.”

“I came with my dad to give back to the community,” said Alyssa Dominguez. “You might not know who you are saving, but you just know you are saving someone’s life that needs blood. I am one pint away from two gallons.”

Todd Hoisington, Jr. has donated 25 to 30 times. “I have been giving for seven years. I think it’s important and like to help others.”

There is a nationwide scarcity of blood. With the pandemic, there has been an even greater need.

Some had a special connection for their reasons for donating.

“My mom needed blood, and my cousin was in a bad accident, and I think it’s good to give back to everybody that might need it,” said Noe Ocampo.

Jesus Aragon came with his wife so she could give blood because he has a physical condition requiring blood.

“She often gives because she knows she is helping people like me plus other people need it more than me. If I could give, I would,” Aragon said.

Katherine Deford, HCBB mobile supervisor, is in charge of all mobile units and monitors donor flow to ensure everyone has a good experience and that staff is efficiently getting donors in and out of the bus.

“I also educate donors if they have any questions. I am here to help,” said Deford. “A lot of people think they can’t donate when in reality they can.”

She complimented the city of Wasco, noting residents are always very welcoming. “We love coming out here.”

“It is important to serve Wasco because it’s a great community, and we do really well here,” said Deford.

Each donation makes an impact.

“People should know that you are saving up to three lives with every donation. It makes a difference because blood donations have decreased, and we try to educate, especially the next generation of donors,” Deford said.

PASTORS CORNER

Repent and be saved

PASTOR LINDA TAYLOR

Home Fellowship Church, Shafter

In Acts 17:30, the Bible tells us that God once winked at the ignorance of men but now (this day and time) "Commandeth all men everywhere to repent!" What does this word "repent" mean? Does it mean we must be sorry for our sins? Yes, it does, but that is not all it means.

There are many people who are sorry for the wrong things they have done. They tell themselves, "I will stop doing wrong." They may be sorry because they are now facing the consequences of their wrongdoing. They have been found out. There are others who are sorry for doing wrong because they have been caught in the act and must now pay the price for their deeds.

Jesus said, "Except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish." (Luke 13:3) He was telling the people that bad things happen to everyone, even good people, but this is not the worst thing that could happen! He was talking about being lost from God, about being doomed to hell. There is a physical death, which we all experience, and there is a spiritual death, which we do not have to experience, because Jesus took our place on the cross.

To repent of our sins means to turn away from them. The scriptures say, "For Godly sorrow worketh repentance to salvation not to be repented of, but the sorrow of the world worketh death." (2 Corinthians 7:10) When we are truly sorry for our sins we will repent not only with our mouths, but with our hearts and our actions.

We will then turn away from the things that cause us to sin and turn to God, who gives us all we need to live above sin. We also read in the Bible, "That if (you) shall confess with (your) mouth the Lord Jesus and shall believe in (your) heart that God has raised Him from the dead (you) shall be saved. For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation." (Romans 10:9-10)

To be born again, we must confess our sins to Jesus and believe in who He is, the only begotten Son of God! He paid the penalty for our sins (wrongdoing) and made a way for us to be free from sin. We must repent and turn away from all sin.

Jesus is coming back to the earth and every one of us shall stand before Him. He will either say, "Well done thou good and faithful servant, enter into the joy of the Lord." Or "Depart from me, ye cursed into everlasting fire." Which do you want to hear Him say? Repent and believe the Gospel (the Good News) and you shall be saved. God bless you!

Linda Taylor is assistant pastor of Home Fellowship Church in Shafter.

PETS OF THE WEEK

Jellybean is looking for a new home

Jellybean came into the Wasco Animal Shelter as a stray. She is approximately 2 years old, and is female chihuahua mix. She is great with staff and other dogs. She has been tested with small and large breeds. It is unknown if Jellybean is house/crate trained at the time. Dogs are not tested with children and cats; his behavior towards children and cats is unknown. Jellybean will be available for adoption on July 18.

Everyone is welcome to adopt from our facility, and we like to give everyone the same opportunity to adopt. Adopters can be from out of town or local. We do not place holds for adoptions. Adopters are responsible for transportation.

Adoptions are on a first-come, first-serve basis beginning at 8 a.m. on the date they are available. You are welcome to call us the day before their availability to ensure the pet is still for adoption.

Rescue is a nonprofit organization with a tax-exempt 501(c)(3). If you have never pulled from the Wasco Animal Shelter, please email us two references (vet preferably) and a copy of your 501(c)(3) form to eubarraza@cityofwasco.org.

PUBLIC NOTICES

PUBLIC NOTICE NOTICE OF FINDING OF NO SIGNIFICANT IMPACT AND NOTICE OF INTENT TO REQUEST RELEASE OF FUNDS

July 14, 2022
City of Shafter
3336 Pacific Avenue
Shafter, CA 93263
(661) 746-5001
These notices shall satisfy two separate but related procedural requirements for activities to be undertaken within the City of Shafter by Self-Help Enterprises.

REQUEST FOR RELEASE OF FUNDS
On or about August 1, 2022, the City of Shafter (City) will submit a request to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) for the release of Self-Help Homeownership Opportunity Program (SHOP) funds to undertake development of a 28-unit single-family housing development for low- and very low-income households at or below 80% of Area Median Income. Self-Help Enterprises (SHE), a California Nonprofit Public Benefit Corporation, is the project developer. The project site is approximately 9.79-acres located at the northwest corner of Elizabeth and Mettler Avenues in the City of Shafter, County of Kern. The project will include 4-bedroom homes. Each residence will have their own garage and private driveway for parking. Front yard landscaping will be included upon construction completion. Subdivision improvements, including internal roads and additional road improvements on the access roads leading to the site, will be required. The self-help housing model will be utilized for the new home construction. Homebuyers will assist in the construction of all residences, with immediate oversight from the professional construction crew of Self-Help Enterprises. The 28 units will be divided into groups of 9 or 10, with each group beginning construction six-months apart. Each group is expected to take ten to twelve months for construction completion, with anticipated full build-out by February 2025. The project is estimated to use approximately $390,000 in SHOP funds. SHOP funds will be used for subdivision improvements.

FINDING OF NO SIGNIFICANT IMPACT
The City of Shafter has adopted the Environmental Review Record (ERR) prepared for the project by the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) and has supplemented it to meet HUD requirements under Part 58. The City has determined that the project will have no significant impact on the human environment. Therefore, an Environmental Impact Statement under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (NEPA) is not required. ENVIRONMENTAL CERTIFICATION

The City of Shafter certifies to HCD that Steve Esselman in his capacity as the Planning Director consents to accept the jurisdiction of the Federal Courts if an action is brought to enforce responsibilities in relation to the environmental review process and that these responsibilities have been satisfied. HUD's approval of the certification satisfies its responsibilities under NEPA and related laws and authorities and allows the use of SHOP funds.

OBJECTIONS TO RELEASE OF FUNDS
HUD will accept objections to its release of funds and the City of Shafter's certification for a period of fifteen days following the anticipated submission date or its actual receipt of the request (whichever is later) only if they are on one of the following bases: (a) the certification was not executed by the Certifying Officer of the City of Shafter as RE; (b) the City of Shafter has omitted a step or failed to make a decision or finding required by HUD regulations at 24 CFR part 58; (c) the grant recipient or other participants in the development process have committed funds, incurred costs or undertaken activities not authorized by 24 CFR Part 58 before approval of a release of funds by HUD; or (d) another Federal agency acting pursuant to 40 CFR Part 1504 has submitted a written finding that the project is unsatisfactory from the standpoint of environmental quality. Objections must be prepared and submitted in accordance with the required procedures (24 CFR Part 58, Sec. 58.76) and shall be addressed to United States Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), Los Angeles Field Office, 300 North Los Angeles Street, Suite 4054, Los Angeles, CA 90012. Potential objectors should contact HUD to verify the actual last day of the objection period. Steve Esselman, Certifying Officer, City of Shafter Planning Director

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown in this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (800) 793-6107 or (888) 902-3989 or visit these internet websites www.auction.com or www.nestortrustee.com, using the file number assigned to this case 2022-01347. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANTS: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (800) 793-6107 or (888) 902-3989 or visit these internet websites www.auction.com or www.nestortrustee.com, using the file number assigned to this case 2022-01347 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase.
