While Ken and Tina Newman have been overbooked for a long time, they did take some time out to answer questions as co-grand marshalls for the 2019 Rose Parade and Wasco Festival.

These two are the worker bees behind the scenes that make things happen.

Tina has in the past and continues to volunteer for Relay for Life, Toys for Tigers, the Rose Pageant and PEO Sorority while managing to work full time at Community Support Options for disabled adults 18 years and older. Ken has also volunteered for 20

Small towns are known for having tight communities in which everyone knows everyone's name. That is definitely the case with this year's Wasco Festival Grand Marshalls, Danny and Petra Rueda.

Both Petra and Danny were surprised to learn they had been selected, since the honor was help a secret until they were told at a Starbucks gathering earlier this month. They will be highlighted on Friday evening, Sept. 6, at the Wine and Roses event and will lead the Saturday, Oct. 12, parade through Wasco.

Council extends CM pact

Ortiz-Hernandez to get raises, too

TONI DEROSA
Wasco Tribune

The City Council extended City Manager Daniel Ortiz-Hernandez's contract an additional two years on Tuesday night. On top of the three years left on his initial contract, he is set to be with the city at least through 2024.

The agreement calls for a salary increase of 3% each year. His current salary is $175,000.

The council also had to deal with some misunderstandings on the first contract.

Ortiz-Hernandez's employment agreement stated that the city would pay his portion of the employee's contribution to California Public Employees Retirement System.

The city discovered that paying for Ortiz's CALPERS' contribution was in error since the system's regulations state that new hires are not eligible to have their CALPERS payments paid for by the city — they must be paid by the employee directly.

Ortiz consented to reimburse the city for the amount of his contribution made by the city, $8,646.32.

In other business, the new Sergeant Peter Martinez was introduced to the council members and attendees. Martinez gave his report and let everyone know the sheriff's deputies stepped up their patrolling on the first day of school, which was Aug. 14. "No traffic cases arose the first day," Martinez said.

Included in the meeting was a presentation by Miocar, an electric car-sharing program that allows people to rent an electric car for a minimal cost.

The membership processing fee is $20, which will be fully reimbursed when the first vehicle is rented. Cost per hour is $4; weekdays are $35 and weekend days are $45. Maintenance, mileage, insurance and roadside assistance are at no cost to the driver.

There are several charging stations located in the area at Sunrise Village and the apartment complex next to Sunrise Village.

All drivers must be at least 21 years old and have a good driving record.

Festival's featured artist rooted in Wasco

TONI DEROSA
Wasco Tribune

The 2019 Wasco Festival will feature the work of a local, well-known artist who has been creating pieces for over 30 years. The art can be seen by visiting Wasco High.

Shirell Sanford was an art teacher at Maple School for 34 years and has been able to take what she taught in the classroom and bring it to life through her artistic projects. Her preferred medium is pencil; however, she has one very recognizable painting of a huge "W" on the back of the Wasco High gymnasium.

Sanford was born in Wasco at the long-gone maternity home located on 7th Street. She remembers being treated by a Dr. Mary when she was young. The hospital used to be located across the street from the current library.

Also, she attended Bakersfield College and always wanted to be a teacher. She began working as an instructional aide at Maple School and was planning on continuing her education.

While her intention was to work part time and continue her education, instead, she began teaching full time and never looked back.

Sanford volunteers at Maple School twice a week, teaching art in transitional kindergarten through eighth grade.

She and her husband worked on props for the pageants over the years.

She is a spring 2018 retiree and said, "I bowed out this year. I needed to lay low."

Sanford loves Wasco and has only lived in three houses on the same block in her lifetime.

"John and I met when he was a senior at Shafter High," she said. "I needed to work for the summer, so I got a job at Jack in the Box in Lost Hills. He was working there as well. We married in the 1980s and have one child, Jami."

VFW, Kern Energy hold tri-tip fundraiser

TONI DEROSA

On Saturday, the residents around Fifth Street could smell the scent of barbecued tri-tip.

No one was complaining. In fact, people arrived from 11 a.m. when the doors opened until they closed.

The fundraiser was spearheaded by VFW member Danny Rueda and Post Commander James Medrano. Aera Energy had suggested to Rueda that their company would like to support a fundraiser for the VFW.

"Aera Energy provided everything," Rueda said.

Assisting the vets were several Sheriff's Activities League members, who collected meal tickets, helped serve and assisted in cleaning up.

The majority of the ticketholders had their meals to go. "We had about 400 people pick up meals," Rueda said. "Several people stayed away from whatever they were doing at home and enjoyed their meal at the hall."

Wasco High ASB Community Representatives Ricardo Carriedo and Elisa Flores are eager to meet their challenges this year.

Student council reps look forward to new school year

TONI DEROSA

Wasco Tribune

Wasco High School's Associated Student Body members are active in both the school and the local community.

ASB Community Representatives Ricardo Carriedo and Elisa Flores are both looking forward to their year on the school's student council.

Some of their responsibilities include school events such as the freshman lunch and the downtown rally for the annual Wasco vs. Shafter rivalry game.

"This year we are looking forward to getting the community involved in several ways," Ricky Carriedo said. "We are going to try to get local businesses involved, too."

He also played on a traveling baseball team and played second base on the school's junior varsity team in 2018. "I am pretty sure I'll be on varsity this year," he said.

Elisa Flores is a varsity cheerleader and has been on the squad for several years. She is one of the 10 candidates in this year's Wasco Rose Queen pageant. She has been taking roping lessons for a while and will be demonstrating her skill in the talent portion of the pageant.

Both students already have an idea where they want to go to college. Ricky is planning on attending Point Loma in San Diego, while Elisa is anticipating going to California State University, Bakersfield, to become a teacher.

As far as the ASB goes, its members are leaders in the school. They provide and support student activities and are the voice of WHS students to staff, the community, and the district. Their goal is to get as many people and businesses in Wasco involved in the events happening within the community and to reach 100% student involvement.

All ASB members must be trustworthy, good leaders, honest and willing to work hard.

Carriedo and Flores are enthusiastic about this next year's challenge. "I'm having a happy year," Elisa Flores said. "I love being on varsity cheer and a member of ASB at school."

Frank Thiessen: 'No one will ever be like him'

TONI DEROSA

Wasco Tribune

The news tore quickly through Wasco High School and Bakersfield Christian High School that Coach Frank Thiessen had passed at 81.

Relationships varied, with every combination of coach, friend, biology teacher and confidante. But the general consensus is that he was a legend; he was one-of-a-kind.

Thiessen was a Wasco native and continued his education at Fresno State.

He was a tennis player his entire life, including throughout high school and college. Even though he was accepted into University of Southern California Medical School with plans of becoming a doctor, he decided to forego USC and instead went out on the pro tennis circuit for a couple years before accepting his first teaching assignment at Fowler High in the 1960s. He was hired as a biology instructor, as well as a coach for several sports including tennis.

Thiessen was at WHS from 1965-2003 and left to teach biology and coach at BCHS until he retired in 2018.

That same year, at age 79, Thiessen was inducted into the Bob Elias Hall of Fame.

"He was my football coach my freshman year at Wasco High," Joe Hively said. "Junior year he was my biology teacher, coach, and counselor."

Hively describes Thiessen as an amazing person. "Students felt like he actually wrote their textbook because he was so knowledgeable."

"He would help you in any way he could," Hively added. "He pushed you to become better than you ever thought you could be."

Additionally, Hively brought up a story about Thiessen paying all the college application fees for one of his high school students that he felt was someone who should go to college. "He always did things like that for his students."

Also, Hively stated that Thiessen's students played in a lot of tennis tournaments. "He won over 20 valley titles in tennis," Hively said.

Thiessen coached all levels of football such as frosh-soph, junior varsity, and varsity.

During the 1960s, Thiessen also served in the military reserves.

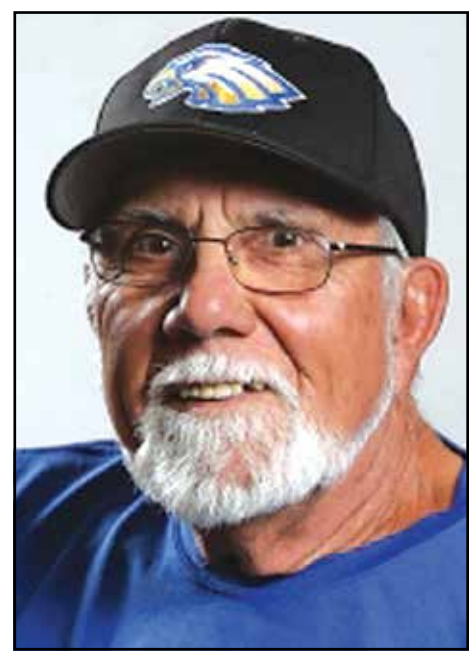

"Players talked to him like he was a doctor," Hively added. "They talked to him about classes, grades, and he would even pop their backs if needed. They used to call him 'Doc' Thiessen."

Hively added that Thiessen was always on top of everything. Prior to his death, he was still involved in the Central Valley Tennis tournaments.

According to Hively, "No one will ever be like him."

A Memorial for Coach Frank Thiessen will be held at 10 a.m. on Saturday, Aug. 23, 2019 at Bakersfield Christian High School.

"No one could ever say anything negative about him," Hively concluded.

John passed in 2013. "You don't realize how that one person can affect others until they are gone," she said. "People still come up to me and talk about John." She mentioned that these comments have led her to reflect on life in general. Additionally, she said that she created the decorations – ice cream sundaes on the walls – for last year's Wine & Roses Evening. She has also created several murals at Wasco schools (Pruitt, Palm Avenue, Thomas Jefferson, and Wasco High), as well as Maple School and schools in Buttonwillow. "I love getting paid to color," Sanford said. She is passionate about all things art. "I have no secrets; I'm an open book." She is humbled to be named the featured artist for the 2019 Wine & Roses event and the Wasco Festival. During her retirement, she would like to visit all 50 states. "I already have 30 down," Sanford said. Attendees of the Wine & Roses event will be able to experience her artistic abilities, with something for everyone, she promises.

Local hoopsters celebrate winning season

TONI DEROSA
Wasco Tribune

Eddie Velasquez and his wife, Erica Alvarado, strongly support a local traveling basketball team. Velasquez coaches, while Alvarado is the team mom, nurse, cook, and caretaker. The team's name is 2nd to None and is part of the Latino Basketball Association. They manage a high school team of 15- to 17-year-olds, and because they love the game so much, they also manage an adult basketball team. "We have a mixture of kids," Velasquez said. "There are 10 players on a team at any time that travel with us." He calls his team 2nd to None and they have had a successful season this past year. Velasquez added that they often qualify to play in games by winning championships. "2nd to None partners with the Orange Heart Foundation," he said. "We recently held a 3-on-3 competition, and we played at Thomas Jefferson." Velasquez is proud of his team. "Because of our winning record, players from other teams approach us to join our team because we do so well." He said that a traveling team can be expensive, especially when they go out of state. They played in Las Vegas earlier this year. "It cost about $350 for each player to make the trip," he said. Fortunately, the team has quite a number of sponsors who help pay for the kids' uniforms and traveling expenses. Since they are a traveling team, their games are all out of town against teams from Las Vegas, Mexico and Los Angeles. They also do quite a few fundraisers to help the boys out with the cost of being on the team. Velasquez and Alvarado often cook dinner for the team before they head out of town the next day, and they make sure there are ample snacks for long road trips. "We pay for everything for the team," Velasquez said. "If a player doesn't have any money, we give him cash so he can enjoy the trip and eat when he wants to."

Velasquez and Alvarado have been managing the team for the past three years. "We used to change uniforms every year," Velasquez said. "but now we keep the same uniform because it's cheaper, and they can be handed down if need be." He manages to keep up with his players and publicize their games on Instagram, where he has many followers. Because they aren't affiliated with a school, they have been able to use the outside courts at Thomas Jefferson to practice once or twice a week. Once during the year, the school lets the team borrow the gym for about three months. "We treat the players as if they are our own family," he said. "My wife cooks for the players all the time. We have barbecues and have them over." Velasquez says everything they do is for the players because he knows how important extracurricular activities are for students. "It keeps them out of trouble." Velasquez played basketball at Wasco High School, where he met Alvarado, who cheered for Wasco High.

2nd to None won the high school division.

July 27, 1924 —
Aug. 13, 2019

Pauline Little was born on July 27, 1924, in Morrilton, Ark., to Oda and Verna Ring. She was the youngest of two daughters. The family moved to Wasco in 1936. She met her childhood sweetheart, Alister "Allie" Little, in high school, and they married in February 1942. After his discharge from the Marine Corps, they made their home in Wasco, where they lived (and farmed) until 1979. At that time, they moved to Bakersfield to be closer to their daughters and their families. Pauline was active in the Wasco Church of Christ, and after moving to Bakersfield, the Westside Church of Christ. She mentored teenage girls and served as a role model for newly married young women. Pauline was preceded in death by her husband of 61 years, Allie; her parents; her sister "Sissy"; and her special granddaughter, Stephanie. She is survived by her daughters and their spouses: Shirley and Rick Pitts, Janet and Ed Pafford, and Allison Little and Michael Musacco. She leaves seven grandchildren: David, Michael, Rebecca, Mark, Stephen, Daniel and Nicholas (and their families); 14 great-grandchildren; and five great-great grandsons. The family would like to give special thanks to Hoffman Hospice and Linda and Dan, caregivers from Arcadia Gardens, for the special care and kindness they provided to our mother. We also want to acknowledge and thank the Hernandez family for caring for our mother as their own. Private family services will be held.

years for the Knights of Columbus, Toys for Tigers and the Rose Pageant and works for Certis, a biological insecticide plant.

Tina describes the PEO Sorority as an organization that promotes the education of young women.

Also, they both volunteer at Wasco's Tiger Cage Crew, which is for football season ticket holders who get selected seats in the stands and a meal at every home game. "The season tickets are on the 15-yard line," Ken said.

Since they are both Wasco born and raised, there exists no other team than the Tigers for the two of them.

But, Tina confessed to a Dodger obsession.

Additionally, Tina added that she loved to work in the background instead of in the forefront.

"I don't like to be highlighted," she said. That's why when the committee contacted her to ask if they would be co-grand marshals, she immediately thought they wanted her to work on the committee; but she was surprised when they asked both of them to be recognized for their commitment to the community and for giving back so much.

Tina added that she is involved in the flocked fla-mingo's fundraiser that are already being rented and displayed in several front yards around town.

The two own a motorhome and love to travel in it. "I'm the designated driver," Tina said. As she explains it, she drives a bus that can seat 40 for work so she is the more skilled of the two in that area.

"We also do food baskets for seniors and needy families during the holidays," Tina added. "We get the names from many different organizations within the community, and we don't question, we just act on their suggestion."

Danny was born in Wasco and Petra was born in Bakersfield, but both were raised in Wasco and both went through the Wasco school system. They didn't go to school together, since Danny is a few years older than Petra.

"We were originally called by Orquidea Ocampo to talk about the festival. I thought we were going to discuss the car show that the VFW puts on during the event; however, when we got to Starbucks, we were shocked when a group of people shouted 'SURPRISE!' and the chair of the Festival Committee, Kayla Castillo, announced why we were really meeting.

"I was nervous," Petra said. "My heart was racing so fast, and I was sweating."

Danny has been retired since 2005 and previously drove a bus for the Wasco Union Elementary School District. He served in the U.S. Army, 1983-1986. More recently, he was the 2018-2019 commander of VFW Post 6742.

The Ruedas hosted two of the Wasco Reserves' baseball team players this summer. He also arrange housing in the VFW hall to any player who didn't have a host family. Because of that, both became close to their young houseguests.

"One of our boys, player Alex Hernandez, gave me his signed bat when he left to return to Arizona," Petra said. "I was so moved; I still get a lump in my throat when I talk about it."

Petra worked part-time for the WUESD for a couple of years and is currently employed with the Kern County Human Services Department as an eligibility worker. She began working full time when Danny retired in 2005.

The Ruedas have two children, 29-year-old Jose Rueda, who lives in Florida and has their first grandson, 1-year-old Jaxson Rueda, and 24-year-old daughter Victoria Rueda, who is currently attending California State University, Bakersfield and studying criminal justice and communications.

"I'm proud to be a grandparent," Danny said, sharing a picture of Jaxson.

PARCEL NUMBERING SYSTEM

EXPLANATION

A parcel numbering system is a numerical system for referring to each parcel or property within Kern County. The standard parcel numbering system consists of, first, the map book number; secondly, the page number within the map book, and block number if one exists; and the parcel number within the block. By this system a county is divided into geographical areas called map books, each map book into geographical areas called pages, each page into blocks, and each block into parcels as owned and used. The maps referred to are available for inspection in the office of the Kern County Assessor - Recorder at 1115 Truxtun Avenue, Second Floor, Bakersfield, California 93301. EXAMPLE: Parcel Number: 052-623-13-01-1 052 - Book 52 of Assessor's Maps 623 - Map Page 62 and Block 3 13 - Parcel 13 within Block 3 01 - Indicates partial ownership when not 00 1 - Check digit for numerical processing integrity

'BC Ride For Free' returns for students

For the second year in a row, Kern Transit will be offering free rides to all enrolled Bakersfield College students with a valid student ID on all 100-numbered routes.

Free rides begin when the fall semester starts on Saturday, Aug. 24, and continues through the end of finals week on Saturday, Dec. 14. The program resumes again when the spring semester starts in January 2020.

Using Kern Transit eliminates the challenges students face with traffic and parking, providing a stress-free ride that can also provide extra study time. Additionally, students may ride free on all 100-numbered routes, not just on routes to and from the school, saving money by commuting all around Kern County.

"Kern Transit is extremely happy that we can continue this free ridership program for a second academic year for all enrolled BC students. We love that students are also learning the value of regional transportation and the role it can play in improving air quality for us now and into the future," said Bob Neath, public works manager for Kern Transit.

BC students have used the Kern Transit free ride service over 25,000 times since the program started last fall. Some students have taken the free rides to BC from as far away as Tehachapi, Delano and Frazier Park. These efforts are funded by a grant from the Low-Carbon Transit Operations Program, which provides operating and capital assistance for transit agencies to reduce greenhouse gas emission and improve mobility, with a priority of serving disadvantaged communities.

"I'm very thankful to Kern Transit for offering free rides to BC students. It's made my life a lot easier. Now I don't have to scramble to find cash to gas up my car, or search for parking before class," said Bakersfield College student Demetrius Daniel. "Last year I was able to use the time on the ride to do homework, study for my exams or just relax from a long day. I was able to really utilize my time management skills," he added.

Kern Transit provides passenger bus service between and in the rural communities of Kern County. There are 16 fixed transit routes, and Dial-A-Ride service available in most communities. Kern Transit is committed to offering affordable alternatives to commuters in the form of convenient, environmentally friendly public transportation. For more information about services and routes, visit KernTransit.org or call 800-323-2396.

HOW TO ADVERTISE EFFECTIVELY AND ECONOMICALLY

Our sales representatives are pleased to help you compose the most effective ad at a minimum cost. Here are two key points to remember about your ads:

1. If it's an item you're selling, remember to include as much information as possible. The more potential buyers know about the item you have for sale, the more interest they have in calling you.

2. Our reputation for Classified Advertising results is excellent. But not every potential buyer will read your ad on the same day. The majority of our private party advertisers take advantage of our discount rates. This simply means that you order your ad for two consecutive issues, but should you get the results you desire before the ad has expired, you may call and cancel the ad and be refunded for the days the ad did not appear. Except for GR -- no refunds or changes accepted.

COPY ACCEPTANCE

The Shafter Press and Wasco Tribune reserves the right to revise, reclassify, edit, reject or cancel any ad at any time for any reason.

DEADLINES

For Private Party Advertisers to order, correct or cancel an ad, the deadline for The Shafter Press and Wasco Tribune is MONDAY NOON.

GENERAL POLICY

1. Rates and deadlines subject to change without notice.

2. The Shafter Press and Wasco Tribune make every effort to avoid errors in advertisements. Each ad is carefully read back for approval. However, mistakes sometimes slip through. We ask that you check your ad carefully. If you should find an error, report it to the Classified Department right away by calling 661-292-5100 and asking for Classified. We regret that we cannot be responsible for more than one incorrect publication if you do not call the error to our attention. The Shafter Press and Wasco Tribune cannot be liable for an amount greater than the amount paid for such advertising.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR BUSINESS.
