

EX-SHAFTER CM HURLBERT NAMED WASCO CITY MANAGER

TONI DEROSA
Wasco Tribune

Former Shafter City Manager Scott Hurlbert will now be the new Wasco city manager, the City Council announced during its meeting.

When City Manager Daniel Ortiz-Hernandez told the City Council he would be leaving the city during the summer, the council members began seeking a replacement for him.

On June 2, Hurlbert became assistant city manager under Ortiz-Hernandez and will assume the position of city manager on July 1.

Hurlbert's incoming salary will be $180,250. He is considered an "at will" employee. In addition, he will receive a monthly car allowance of $600 that will compensate him for travel within Kern County. Hurlbert must remain accessible 24 hours a day for operational and emergency call-outs.

His contract is available on the city's website.

manager for Shafter from March 2014 to August 2019 when he retired from the position. Hurlbert is known for continuing the economic expansion through the addition of over 3 million square feet of logistics warehousing and the addition of the city rail container yard. He was also instrumental in the expansion of the city fiber optic network. He also helped establish the Shafter Learning Center in 2014.

In November 2009 to February 2014 he was the assistant city manager for the City of Shafter. He was co-founder/president of Micro Track International from 1987 to 2005.

Ortiz-Hernandez also reported at the council meeting that the High Speed Rail Authority has not received word on their grant application yet, which would help the city pay for the demolition of the former labor camp housing.

The city recognized the month of June as Proclamation for Pride Month and Mayor Alex Garcia asked everyone to be kind and tolerant to everyone.

There were nearly 300 graduates at the Wasco High School graduation ceremony on Friday, marking the end of their academic careers in Wasco.

Student greetings and messages of thanks were relayed through speakers to the attendees at the beginning of the ceremony and the graduation officially began with the singing of the National Anthem by Polly Hughes, Dessie Claffy and Stephanie Wymer.

Superintendent Robert Cobb and Director of Special Programs Kevin Tallon presented special awards to the Golden Seal Merit students. Tallon then introduced the California Scholarship Federation recipients.

Valedictorian Rafael Viscarra told the graduates to congratulate themselves and said that graduation is the culmination of strength.

Luna shared with attendees that he lives with autism spectrum disorder. Not only did Luna graduate from WHS, he also received his Associate of Science degree because of his participation in the Wonderful Agriculture Career Program.

When Luna began his speech, he asked each attendee for a moment of silence to honor all those who died from the pandemic. He expressed his appreciation to everyone who helped him along the way.

In April, an ad hoc committee was created, consisting of Mayor Pro-Tem Chad Givens and council member Gilbert Alvarado, to explore options to keep the Shafter Library open past the current agreement with the Kern County Library system, which expires July 1.

The Kern County Library system closed its doors on any further talks of keeping the Shafter Branch open.

This is the second year that the Wasco Union Elementary School District has had to utilize covid-19 protocol to hold its annual graduation ceremony. Everyone was required to wear a face mask and maintain social distancing.

There was no formal gathering after the ceremony due to the pandemic.

The ceremony includes an introductory by Palm Avenue Assistant Principal Zachery Ellis and a closure led by Palm Avenue Associated Student Body President Yareli Sanchez and Thomas Jefferson ASB President Izabella Heredia.

Superintendent Kelly Richers said this was one of the most challenging school years.

"Have a great high school career," Richers added. "You will have something to remember and talk about."

"The class of 2021 wants to let everyone know that we [graduates] are honored and humbled to stand before you," Thomas Jefferson Valedictorian Fabian Carrillo said. "We want to thank the staff, school and faculty for giving extra support."

Carrillo also reflected on the first day of attending Thomas Jefferson, being lost and walking the hallways as well as adjusting to new schedules and admitted having to learn new work ethics.

Palm Avenue ASB President and Salutatorian Yareli Sanchez admitted that this year had been a challenge for everyone.

"This school will be missed," she said. "There are many good memories from Palm Elementary to Palm Avenue Middle School."

"I am proud of being from the small community of Wasco," Sanchez said. "I'd like to thank all the teachers and parents for their help in helping us adapt to the challenges."

She ended her speech by stating that it takes a special kind of person to become a Wasco Tiger.

going on, they were too busy and they would finish at a better time; however these students thanked their families for encouraging them to continue with school. Both students were encouraged by their instructors' support.

Independent Studies Program speaker Angel Llamas Perez told everyone not to give up on their dreams. Recognizing the challenges of finishing school, Perez exclaimed, "We did it!"

Prado addressed the graduates, telling them it is their duty to continue the tradition of furthering their education and to make it either around the rock in the road or climb over that rock.

Prior to closing remarks, Prado mentioned WIHS student Florencio Zamora, who died in a vehicle accident earlier in the year. Prado said that Zamora would be receiving his diploma and his parents would be accepting it in their son's name.

"We made it through a virus that started halfway around the world, which changed our lives," Prado told the graduates. "You have overcome adversity. Be a part of the solution."

While there was nothing officially planned for the Wasco Cemetery on Memorial Day, the Shafter/Wasco VFW Post 6742 continued its tradition of decorating and greeting guests.

Gravesites were decorated with small flags that had been placed on each grave by cemetery Grounds Supervisor Denny Carender and grounds employees.

Due to the pandemic, the cemetery district decided that there would not be a ceremony at the Wasco Cemetery.

Wasco VFW members Camilo Vasquez, James Madrone, Tony Stout and Steven Smith were available to greet visitors who stopped by to pay their respects to fallen veterans they knew.

The local VFW members kept a watchful eye on the grounds as visitors trickled in. Some placed flowers on gravesites while others stopped to chat

Commander James Madrone described how worn-out flags are burned in a flag-burning ceremony and said that the Wasco

Although the normal Memorial Day ceremonies at the Shafter Cemetery were canceled, many came out to honor the fallen heroes.

The family of Angel Joe Nieto came out to honor him.

There was also someone who played "Taps" every half hour. As in years past, all of the veterans' graves were decorated with American Flags. Several families set up canopies around their loved ones' graves, sharing stories and remembrances.

Two women from Bakersfield made the visit to Shafter to pay respects to a friend of theirs.

"We came to visit Curtis Daniel, who we had known for years. We always remember that he always had his orange slices. He was such a great guy," said Yoga Brown.

Brown came with Linda Flavin, from Bakersfield, to lay some flowers at Daniels' grave.

"I have to say, we have visited five different cemeteries today, and the Shafter one is the nicest one we have been to," said Brown. "It is so clean and beautiful."

Another visitor was the family of Angel Joe Nieto. Nieto bravely served his country and now lies in peace in the Shafter Cemetery. His family filled the grave site with flowers of red, white, and blue.

Many visitors hoped the holiday would go back to normal next year.

"Today is a beautiful day, and it is always touching to come out here and see my relatives, but I really hope that there will be a regular ceremony again next year," said Mary Montez. "I just love the sight of so many people gathered to honor our own local heroes."

Library to be run by city

said Givens. "We are lowest on their list, but in reports we are third highest when it comes to foot traffic in the county."

There were three options for the council to consider.

According to the ad hoc committee, the first option would keep the 12 hour a week service in the county system, but the price would go up, resulting in a cost of approximately $290,000 for the next five years. The county would keep the library open, but the city would have to pay the county for their services.

The second option was to pay the county to keep the library open with a 40 hour week service offered. This cost would be approximately $930,000 for the five year agreement. With agreements made with the San Joaquin Library Association, for a library to use the Library Operating system programs, a Kern County employee has to be on site to run the software. This accounts for the majority of the cost that would be paid by the city.

The third option, after having discussions with Bakersfield College, would be to break away from the county system and create a municipal library that would be ran by the city and staffed by Bakersfield College.

Bakersfield College, with its willingness to help the city keep its library functioning, are prepared to staff the library 40 hours a week with the cost of having the library open for the next five years at a total cost of $315,000.

"The drastically reduced cost compared to the county option is because of the generous offer from Bakersfield College to partner with the city on the project," said David Franz.

The third option was approved, allowing the city to begin official proceedings to break ties with the county.

"It is exciting. It is really disappointing to see how the county has chose not to consider keeping Shafter open, but this new venture is going to be a great one for the city and the community," said Mayor Cathy Proulx.

Scent of lavender to fill the air for festival

The Lavender Garden, located between Bakersfield and the Central Coast, will be hosting its First Annual Lavender Festival on Saturday and Sunday, June 12 and 13.

The event will be from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Saturday and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

The event is for the entire family with a variety of vendors, food, a petting zoo, train ride and live music, said Anna Valdivia of the Lavender Garden.

The festival will include the crowning of the Lavender Festival Queen, Jr. Queen, and Princess on Saturday at 1 p.m. The pageant is hosted by Legacy Productions and Miss Kern County.

Jim Ranger, who is a Bakersfield native and a contestant on The Voice, Season 19, will be performing on Saturday at 6 p.m. There will also be more live music throughout the day Saturday and Sunday.

The festival will take place in the middle of the only existing lavender fields in Kern County. The Lavender Garden is four acres of five different varieties of lavender. Their gift shop will also be open. The gift shop includes soaps, lotions, honey, essential Another attraction is the collection of animal sculptures that dot the landscape, including Promise the panda bear, a goat, pig, cows a zen dog and dinosaurs. You can get your picture taken with the sculpted zoo.

Generals helping students succeed with Pride Pantry

JAMIE STEWART
 The Shafter Press

About a year and a half ago, just before the pandemic hit the county, staff at Shafter High discovered a disturbing trend.

Teachers were coming to administration and counselors with concerns about some of their students. They said that there were students that were not coming to class on a regular basis, and there were also students who seemed to be struggling in class, as well as out of class. One teacher mentioned that a student was not coming to class because she didn't have enough clothes to wear, making it uncomfortable for her to attend on a daily basis.

Another example was a student who was missing class because he and his family didn't have a permanent address and were staying with friends or relatives, bouncing around to have a place to sleep.

As similar stories came to light, a group of teachers wanted to help get these students back on track, in the classroom and outside of it.

Katie Young took the reins of the problem and was determined to find a solution for the problem. Sabrina Macias, who is an intervention counselor at Shafter High School, said, "It all started with Katie. A group of us would sit and talk and voice a need to come up with a solution, but Katie is the one who got the ball rolling."

The group began the Pride Pantry. This program contains a variety of items that students might need, as small as a toothbrush or toothpaste, to a bag of food, or a sleeping bag or air mattress.

Thanks to the support from local businesses, individuals and clubs in Shafter, the Pride Pantry has been serving the students of Shafter High to make sure that they are able to attend school and be productive students.

"This program is amazing, letting us help our students who might otherwise fall through the cracks," said team member Haley Ishida.

It has become even more challenging with families losing their jobs or homes due to the pandemic.

"We have seen a rise in the need for everything from simple toiletries to clothes and blankets," said team member Amy Carlson.

With their pantry supplies growing, they were in need of a place to store the items. Lynnda Martin, of American Refuse, volunteered to give the team a cargo container to store the items in.

"This has been a blessing and just another example of people stepping up to help our students, making the General motto a reality," said Macias.

"It is amazing what a difference such blessings can make in a student's life," said Young.

The team core, made up of staff Macias, Young, Carlson, Kelly Borrego, and Ishida, are not hesitant to make house visits either, connecting with the students and their families, letting them know that they will do whatever it takes to help their students succeed.

As the popularity of the Pride Pantry has grown, the inventory has dwindled, so they are in need of supplies to regenerate their inventory. Anyone interested in contributing to this program can contact the high school. They are in need of everything from socks, underwear, men's clothing, belts, shampoo, conditioner, deodorant, feminine products, snack food items, pillows and pillow cases. They also can use blankets, sleeping bags and air mattresses.

Freewill Baptist Christian Academy honors students

JAMIE STEWART
The Shafter Press

Students at the Freewill Baptist Christian Academy celebrated Friday as they received their awards in person. Students from kindergarten through 12th grade were honored with a variety of awards, including a Bible Pin, Superintendent's Pin, and many others that recognized the efforts of the student this past year.

Valedictorian for the year was Parker Russell, who is also the son of Assistant Principal Toni Russell. It was a bittersweet moment when Russell introduced her son and told the attendees that it would be hard to not have Parker in class anymore, but it was a blessing and he was moving on to the next phase of his life.

Shandy Lauderdale and Abigail Long sang a duet.

The preK to kindergarten students recognized were Millie Garcia, Artie Lauderdale, Ellie Lauderdale, Augustus Long. Mrs. Russell said that they were a joy to have in class.

Kindergarten to first graders recognized were Molly Plumley, Thiago Sanchez, Elijah Vandborg, William Carlberg and Lukas Garcia. The students worked hard throughout the year, according to the staff, as well as having a great time in extracurricular activities, such as a camping trip.

The Junior High students recognized were Ryan Vandborg and Elijah Blackwell. They were both mentioned by Russell as having great attitudes and were a big help with the younger students.

The High School students were Kishna Grant, Denis Vanderhelm and Parker Russell. Russell said he wanted to thank all of the staff for their hard work and dedication.

Thiago Sanchez gets a couple of awards including a Bible pin and for getting a certain amount of perfect test scores.

a great thing for our graduates and their families,” said Richland Superintendent Rosa Romero.

A total of 208 students were presented to Shafter High Principal Russell Shipley, who will be welcoming them as incoming freshmen this fall.

Principal Monica Garza briefly outlined the challenges that this class has had to face to complete their middle school careers.

“Since March 2020, we have all experienced fear, loss, confusion, and anxiety due to the covid-19 pandemic. Never did we imagine that our daily lives would include so many adjustments,” said Garza.

Garza said that while the pandemic has taken away so much from their middle school careers, it has also given them many opportunities.

“You have had the opportunity to see your community come together to support one another. When I say community, I am referring to your school community, your family community, and your local community.”

Salutatorian Camryn Eubanks said that words like “pandemic, distance learning, Zoom and social distancing have become all too familiar this past year.

“Our Junior High experience was different than any others in history that sometimes it becomes impossible to remember what school was like before this happened.”

Linda Lopez, with graduate Jasmine Garcia and Alfonso Garcia.

Valedictorian Quetzal Garcia talked about the pandemic itself and the results that were accomplished by their class.

“Some of us had to deal with huge losses, like the death of a loved one. All students, teachers, principals, and parents had to work hard to make this school year function. Together we adapted so we could succeed,” Garcia said.

In addition to each student receiving their diplomas, there were several awards handed out.

New members of the Richland Junior High Honor Society were announced; Quetzal Frida Garcia, Camryn Grace Eubanks, and Eliyah Faith Sanchez.

Every year, there is a Tommy and Tammy Trojan named, who personify the spirit and attitude that is being a Richland Trojan. This year, they were Alex Balderama and Emmy Aguilar. They received a special pen and a medal. The Kathy Mayes Character Counts awards went to Diego Pompa and Andrea Cuevas. The Ray Wiley Awards, given to the outstanding athletes of the class, were given to Miguel Figueroa-Contreras and Caroline McKenzie.

After the speeches, awards, and handing out the diplomas, they continued a tradition as the faculty and staff made a tunnel through the middle of the field, as the new graduates made their way out of the stadium, giving the teachers one more chance to say goodbye.

pandemic,” Luna said. “We need to persevere and stride forward.”

Luna shared that some of his symptoms include fidgeting a lot, moving body parts around and movements that he isn’t even aware of. He even mentioned that when he was originally diagnosed, his family was advised that he might never speak. Luna’s mother was confident that he would talk and fought hard to help him achieve that.

Being on the autism spectrum can often be different for everyone; but one common characteristic is living with challenges with social skills, repetitive behaviors and communication.

As Luna graduates, he is headed to the University of California, Davis where he plans to study biology.

Luna said that he has never given up and has always chosen to focus on the positive.

“I don’t really see it as a disability,” he said. “I see it as a special trait” by noting he has been able to maintain a 4.38 GPA.

He said that he wants to become a biologist and study viruses within the body.

“I always wanted to become a scientist. I believe everyone deserves to live a happy, healthy life,” he said.

Wonderful Academy College Prep Salutatorian Manuel Dominguez thanked everyone for helping him along the way.

“Studying at home was hard,” he said. “We were in high school, but we really weren’t.”

Dominguez said he missed being on campus, missed feeling awkward when walking toward an unknown person and he missed the football games.

He also asked everyone to forget about living in the past.

“Go have fun,” he said. “I wish everyone a long and happy life.”

As the ceremony closed, attendees were asked to sing the Alma Mater, a tradition that has been sung following each graduation ceremony.

OBITUARY

Adel M. Durando
(Nee Urzangui de Badaya)
June 23, 1926 –
May 22, 2021

Our Mom, grandmother, great-grandmother, aunt and friend peacefully passed away at the home of her daughter Mary. Due to her devout Catholic faith, we are comforted that she is now with our Lord Jesus Christ in his Heavenly Kingdom. Mom shared this deep faith with her children and her spouse.

Mom was born in Stockton in 1926 to Spanish Basque immigrants Sebastian Urzanqui, Eugui, Navarra Spain and Lucia Badaya, Abadiano, Viscaya Spain. She was most proud of her heritage and shared it with her family; she especially loved telling about the adventures she had at her father's sheep camp, visiting her uncles at their camp and the famous Basque shepherd's picnics in California. She was a proud member of the Bakersfield "Bo Peeps" ladies auxiliary.

Mom moved to Wasco in 1933 with her family and lived there until 2014, when she moved to Menlo Park to live near her two oldest children.

She was educated in the Wasco Unified School District and was in the first graduating class of the new Thomas Jefferson Junior High in 1940, as well as its first student body president. In high school she excelled in academics, marching band, was head cheerleader for 3 1/2 years. She participated in tennis and soccer; was editor of the "Tiger Rag" and yearbook.

During World War II, she was asked to coach boys and girls by the Recreation Department, as the men were not available for the summer programs

After graduating from Bakersfield College, she was asked to apply for a provisional teaching credential and taught at Wasco's elementary school. She finished her degree at San Francisco State College and returned to teach in Wasco.

She met the love of her life, Livio "Babe" Durando, while clerking part time in the local grocery store. Dad had moved back to Wasco to take over his father's farming business. They were married in 1949. Together they raised four children, Mary, Richard, Susan and Timothy. Her life was busy as a wife, mother, bookkeeper, 4-H leader, Altar Society and Federated Woman's Club member.

She was an avid knitter and always had her needles clicking when there was down time. She was famous for knitting dress socks for her three "boys" and the beautiful 3-foot-long Christmas stocking that she gave as christening gifts to family and friends and church and Woman's Club fundraisers. She was active in the Wasco Rose Festival and was Co-Grand Marshall of the Festival Parade in 2006.

When a substitute teacher was needed for six weeks in 1961 at St. John's School in Wasco; mom filled the vacancy. She did other sub work for both St. John's and the public schools until she was asked to pilot a new program for the Kern County schools. She became one of the first ESL -- English as a Second Language -- resource teachers for the State of California. She helped pioneer a testing and teaching program for the migrant students for the district. She was asked to share her approach at many teacher conferences throughout the state. She retired in 1975.

She and Dad enjoyed traveling to see their son Tim play football at the University of Oregon, and Mom was a proud Daisy Duck. They would also attend many Stanford games as it allowed them to visit their two oldest children at the time.

Mom became more active in the Federated Woman's Club and held many local, district and state offices. She was particularly proud of spearheading the central coast replacement of the Mission Bells along the California Coast from Santa Barbara to the University of Santa Clara location. She was very active in the Woman's Club reading sorority, having read over 5,400 books over about 15 years. She also was elected to the International Society of Women Educators.

Her family wishes to thank Mom's care team over the last 10 years: Dr. Tommy Lee, Dr. Susan Hoffman, Dr. Bob Hu and the Stanford Emergency Department and Hospital staff. We are especially grateful to her homecare givers for the past four years, Fatima and Malia -- you were her special angels.

She was preceded in death by her parents; beloved spouse of 50 years, "Babe" Durando; and siblings Fernando and John Albert Urzanqui, Mary Jane Rogers (Col. Charles, deceased); and son Timothy (Pat Durando Campbell).

She is survived by children Mary Durando, Susan Bravo (Dr. Keith) and Richard Durando (Margaret). She has seven grandsons: Greg (Hannah), Michael (Courtney), George, Douglas and Mark Durando, and Joshua and Benjamin Bravo. She was a great-grandmother to Jack, Holly and Stevie Seline Durando and Ona Catherine Campbell. She has many nephews, two nieces and many great-nieces and nephews.

Services will be held Friday, June 4, at 10 a.m. at St. John's Catholic Church in Wasco, with Rosary at 9:30 a.m. Interment will be held at Wasco Memorial Park following the Mass.
