Potato shed burns in 5th recent fire

JAMIE STEWART
The Shafter Press

A potato warehouse on Lerdo Highway was burned to the ground last week, the fifth substantial fire in the city in recent months. A former Shafter fire dispatcher voiced concern that this seemed like a pattern of arson – a suggestion rejected by the Police Department.

The latest fire burned down a warehouse used to store potatoes right across the roadway from Pacific Tire.

The fire was reported a little before 8 a.m. on Thursday with the Shafter Police Department and Engine 32 of the Kern County Fire Department responding. Upon arrival, officers confirmed the empty warehouse was on fire. Firefighters controlled the blaze, but not before the building was totally destroyed. No one was inside the structure.

An investigation is ongoing regarding the cause, which was undetermined as of press time.

With the number of fires in Shafter in a short amount of time, some people are wondering if there is cause for concern. Resident Lynn Yoshikawa, a former dispatcher for the Shafter Police Department

VERONICA JACUINDE

The Wasco Reserve Pecos League professional baseball club announced there would not be any games played in Wasco this season. Instead, they will play their home games in Bakersfield at Sam Lynn Ballpark.

"Logistically, it just didn't make sense to continue in Wasco," said the owner of the Wasco Reserve and Pecos League Commissioner Andrew Dunn. "It was out of our control. All we can do now is represent the city as best as we can."

According to a statement from the district manager for the Wasco Recreation and Parks District, Chris Serna, "The league was not able to acquire officials to come out to Wasco to officiate ball games without officials requesting mileage reimbursements."

Players also were requesting mileage reimbursements to and from games. The league was unsuccessful in obtaining host families for the players and could not afford hotel accommodations.

Despite the move, it will not affect

City Council approves purchase for bus shelter

JAMIE STEWART
The Shafter Press

The Shafter City Council approved the purchase of a new Bus Shelter that will be placed at the new bus stop located at Stringham Park.

This bus stop is being relocated from the City Hall area to the park. There will also be a new parking lot located at the park as well.

Previously, the Council approved a project that would build a new transit bus bay turnout on James Street, adjacent to Stringham Park. Upon completion of the project, the county of Kern has agreed to relocate its Regional Transit Bus Stop in Shafter to the Stringham Park location.

The new structure is a pre-fabricated building that can be customized.

During Public Comment of the meeting, Richland Superintendent Rosa Romero spoke to the council and thanked the council for their approval during their last meeting of the placement of a Resource Officer on the Richland campuses.

Romero said that she had brought the need to Shafter Police Chief Kevin Zimmermann and City Manager Gabriel Sergeant Shinn from the Kern County Sheriff's Department reported several redundant arrests at this weeks council meeting.

In particular, on April 28th, the department arrived for a recovery of a stolen vehicle. Deputies found Joshua Anderson, age 19, of Wasco, near the vehicle and located a second stolen vehicle in the area.

"You might recognize the name from a prior presentation where I discussed Anderson had been arrested on two counts of grand theft auto," said Sergeant Shinn.

"Since being released from his previous crime, within a very short period of time has already been caught with two additional stolen vehicles."

"This shows where the state of our criminal justice system is and indicates what I have been trying to explain as far as individuals we are facing that are repeat offenders in theft and narcotics."

Also, on April 28th, for the second time, Diego Emanuel

Pop up event gives vendors exposure

JAMIE STEWART
The Shafter Press

Continuing a trend that has been gaining steam throughout the pandemic, a large pop-up event was held at Tin Cup in Shafter, attracting over 50 vendors selling products from homemade baked goods, jewelry, plants, clothing and much more.

Irma Ceja with some of her artwork for sale.

The event is just one of many pop-up events that have been held in Shafter and throughout Kern County, giving vendors a venue to display their wares.

SHAFTER

At the beginning of the pandemic, with businesses being shut down, people being laid off or put out of work, a number of residents were facing the challenge of making ends meet with unemployment or looking for elusive jobs that were very scarce.

Faced by these challenges, a large number of residents decided to take matters into their own hands and started creating their own products, selling those items online or at pop-up events that were beginning to dot the landscape.

Included in this trend was Adrianna Pompa. Pompa was faced with the challenge of finding a skin product that she could use that wouldn't irritate her sensitive skin. Pompa decided to research her own recipes, trying to find products that would clean her skin without damaging her skin. Pompa started having success, creating her own products that worked for her, as well as the large number of people in similar situations, needing a safe and hypoallergenic product to treat their skin. Pompa began making her own soaps, scrubs, loofas and candles, as well as making her own earrings.

Her popularity began growing, and this resulted in a successful business online and in-person, selling a variety of items that have given consumers options. Her products are now sold online, at pop-up events, through Instagram and at a flower shop in Shafter.

But hers was but one of the items available at the Shafter pop-up, along with food and music.

Another vendor at the event has been sharing her unique gift with the public and selling her amazing creations that she has made on paper, canvas and other mediums. Irma Ceja, who has been interested in art since she was 14, has turned her passion into a business, selling her artwork online, in person and at pop-up events such as this one.

Ceja displayed her works, with watercolors mixed with oil paintings, sketches and other creations. Ceja said that her inspirations for her creations come from a number of sources including television, online, scenes that she sees around town, as well as her heritage. "I am Hispanic, so my heritage has been a major influence on my work," said Ceja, who had a number of religious depictions on display, such as a piece that highlighted the Virgin Mary.

"I take inspiration from a lot of different places," said Ceja. She is a self-taught artist, not having any formal training during her career. In fact, she was once booted from an art class. "I was actually kicked out of class because I wasn't following the instructions that were given. I was doing the work in my own way and it didn't sit well with the instructor, so I was asked to leave."

Not being deterred, Ceja continued her artistic passion following her own inspirations and ways. Which is fortunate for her customers, who have benefited from her passion and inspiration that she has put into her creations.

Ceja said that she can be reached on her Instagram @_i.c and on her facebook at I.C. Illustrations.

Air Museum members tour space facility

JAMIE STEWART
The Shafter Press

Members of the Minter Field Air Museum recently got the chance to tour one of the most advanced space and air facilities in the nation when they visited the Mojave Air & Space Port, which is housing the Virgin Galactic, which is preparing spacecraft that will allow civilians to go into space.

They have built a launcher that has gone up in space and has orbited the earth, and also tested craft that have carried people into space and right back down again, preparing for the time when passengers will be able to venture into space commercially.

The museum members were able to get an up-close look at one of largest aircraft in the world, with a wingspan of over 200 feet wide, barely able to fit on the airport's runway.

According to President Ronald Pierce, the group was able to take just a few pictures, since a lot of the venues they visited were security-sensitive areas.

Pierce said that the tour lasted about five hours. "We started the tour at around noon, and ended the tour at about 5 p.m. It was an amazing time. The aircraft and the technology was incredible."

He said the group was invited to return to the facility once they settled down a little bit, with the majority of the projects concluded or further along in the process.

Included in the tour group from Shafter was Evan Su, a student in Shafter who is a museum docent in training; Mike and Scott Hogstad, museum board members and Docents; Alan Anderson from museum; and David Cosimati, a computer technician and museum board member.

Museum members who took the tour were Evan Su, Scott Hogstad, Mike Hogstad, Alan Anderson, David Cosimati, Armando Perez, Miguel Diaz, Tyler Wood, Ann Strader, Karl Bender and Ronald Pierce.

Virgin Galactic has recently put a craft into space that was unmanned, giving the crew and staff information about the environment up there, as well as what requirements will be necessary to travel into space with manned vehicles.

Pierce was amazed at the size of the spacecraft, with the launcher taking up the entire width of the runway. "It was huge. It took up the whole runway and they told us that it was used to launch orbiters into space."

Virgin Galactic has put civilians into space for a 90-minute journeys. Passengers experience minutes of weightlessness as the craft soars through space, giving the passengers the experience of a lifetime. Their ultimate goal is to make it commercially feasible for people to travel into space regularly. With the successful ventures into space that have been completed, they are getting closer to this goal and hope to have the future for spaceflight within its grasp.

These aircraft are the future of space travel.

Tacos La Villa to replace Del Taco

JAMIE STEWART
The Shafter Press

If you have driven by Lerdo Highway and Central Valley Highway lately, you may have noticed that the Del Taco has closed its doors. The national chain eatery shut down operation recently, giving way to an up-and-coming eatery.

The city's director of business development, Bob Meadows, confirmed that the business will be reopened as a Tacos La Villa in the near future.

There are already four Tacos La Villa locations in Bakersfield that have taken over former Del Taco drive-ins.

Since 1993, Tacos La Villa has grown to include a total of nine locations in Bakers-field. Reviewers have noted that the food at the Tacos La Villa locations have an authentic flavor, giving residents a more traditional Mexican food experience. "Their hook is that the food is more like homemade and authentic than some fast food chains," Meadows said.

Resident Mary Longren said that she is looking forward to the change. "I just love Tacos La Villa. Their asada fries are the best, and their burritos are awesome. There is just more of a real Mexican food vibe from their places than many others."

Tacos La Villa are famous for Bakersfield Famous Tuesdays, pricing their tacos at 99 cents all day. Another popular item is their Hot Cheetos Burrito.

The brand resulted when a couple of dreamers, including Danny Nunez, brought tacos, burritos, tortas and a lot more to the residents of Bakersfield. They also serve fresh aguas, such as the popular horchata, jamaica, limonada and agua de pina.

Meadows mentioned that the businesses are pretty much turnkey, with the majority of the necessities already on site, so the Shafter outlet should be opening in the near future.

Customer service is first at H & H Automotive

VERONICA JACUINDE
Wasco Tribune

Finding a trustworthy and reliable mechanic can be a challenge. Luckily for those looking for value and expertise, H & H Automotive is here to serve with a full range of services and 100% guaranteed work.

"We are loyal, and our goal is to take care of our customers in the right way," said owner Jose Robledo in a recent interview.

They offer a wide selection of services, including rebuilding engines, transmission replacements, brakes and complete exhaust overhauls.

"We are the only radiator shop left in Wasco or Shafter. You would have to travel to Bakersfield or Tulare for the closest automotive repair business that can rebuild and reconstruct radiators," Robledo said. "Anything that has to do with radiators, we can handle."

They do a lot of work for schools and farmers, and have many industrial clients who trust them with their automotive needs.

The shop has been locally owned since opening in 1985. Robledo started sweeping floors and, in 1999, transitioned to a mechanic role. In 2007, he had an opportunity to become the owner and has run the shop since then.

"I was first hired to help with customer service because we have so many clients that are Spanish speakers," said Robledo.

H & H Automotive has a strong team of mechanics, with a combined total of 40 years of experience. Robledo has 23 years working in the automotive world.

Bradley Hoover has been with the company since 2010.

"What I love most about working here are our customers. I enjoy being able to help people and provide them with quality work. This, I believe, makes us stand out from the rest," he said.

"I know we are the best because our clients tell us so," said Hoover. "We have a friendly environment and provide superior service at a very reasonable price compared to others."

Robledo said of his team, "That is why we are great. I wouldn't be here without them."

"I can trust them, and that makes the business run smoothly. Being a business owner can be tough, but life is easier when you have a solid team."

H & H Automotive values the Wasco community.

"I consider Wasco my home, and it is important to treat the community with respect and support."

The shop has for many years sponsored local sports, such as Wasco High School baseball, football and cheer teams.

"I do this to help Wasco thrive. It gives me great pleasure knowing that I am giving

The value of a Godly woman

PASTOR JIM GLASCO

Proverbs 31:10 says Who can find a virtuous woman? For her price is far above rubies. It speaks of a woman that is strong in moral principles. This woman in Proverbs is a strength and blessing to her husband and children. She is clothed with strength and honor and she loves God.

Godly women are a strength and a stability in this chaotic world, as they exhibit hope and trust in God. Some of the most godly women I have met were moms and grandmas in the church where I pastor. Many of them have went on to be with the Lord, but what I gleaned from them has been so precious and such a help.

Hannah was a godly woman. Hannah was a praying mom and she would pour out her soul before God. Hannah was barren but she prayed that the Lord would give her son. She said I will then give him back to you.

She kept her promise to the Lord and when Samuel was weaned she took him to the house of the Lord and gave him back to God and there he worshiped the Lord and God began to use him. Samuel had been born of a praying woman. Samuel grew up as a prophet and judge in Israel. He anointed and counseled Israel's kings. A godly woman is very valuable to the Lord.

Godly moms are a protection to their children. In 2nd Samuel 21:10 a woman named Rizpah saw her two sons hung by the Gibeonites. They would not bring the bodies down. Rizpah spread sackcloth upon a rock and for five months she protected their bodies from the birds and wild animals. Godly moms will fight and protect their children through prayer.

My mama didn't raise a fool. Proverbs 14:1 The fool has said in his heart that there is no God. Godly moms teach their children that there is a God in Heaven. In 2nd Timothy 1:5 you see the value of a godly mom and grandma as they instilled godly faith in Timothy. Moms are truly a special bouquet of roses.

Celebration returns to downtown Shafter

JAMIE STEWART

The Cinco de Mayo Festival made its return to the streets of Shafter on Saturday, packing downtown with over 1,000 viewers. The celebration kicked off with a parade that came down Central Avenue, with local news anchor Jose Gaspar as its master of ceremonies. Gaspar welcomed the crowd to “the triumphant return of the Cinco de Mayo celebration, after a two-year hiatus due to the covid-19 pandemic. It is great to see all of the people here to celebrate this event, which is a statement of unity and one of the first chances we have had to come together as a community.” A former councilmember and hometown hero on and off the gridiron, Manuel Garcia was the Grand Marshal for the parade. Garcia said that he was “honored for the opportunity to serve as Grand Marshal and show this city how much it means to me and my family.” There were over 50 entries in the parade, including the Richland Trojan Marching Band, the Shafter High School Generals Band and other local schools with floats. There were also a number of classic cars, trucks and other vehicles, including tow trucks and semis, lit up in the red, green and white colors of the Mexican flag. The members of the perennial favorite Brinco del Chinelo, from Morales, Mexico, were dressed in traditional festive brightly colored feathered costumes, with drums pounding, dancing down the street to the cheers of the large crowd.

Walker Senior Center residents, attired in traditional dresses, danced down the parade route and delighted the crowd. “I hope I have that much energy and spirit when I am that age,” commented Mario Monteno, who was attending the parade with his children. “I think this is great.” A group of classic cars bounced their way down the street, with a number of them dancing with their hydraulic systems on their vehicles.

Another crowd favorite were the vaqueros and their equine companions. The horses danced, keeping time with their riders and the music accompanying them. A number of the horses entertained the crowd with stepping high and rearing up, showing their control and beauty. At the conclusion of the parade, the crowd made their way to Mannel Park, where the celebration continued well into the evening.

Mannel Park hosts Cinco de Mayo fest

Mannel Park was the place to be on Saturday, with over 1,000 gathering for the return of the Cinco de Mayo celebration after the cancellation of the event for the past two years due to the pandemic. Deanna Rodriguez-Root and her Cinco de Mayo Committee put together a festival that rivaled any that have taken place in the recent past. There were over 70 vendors on hand with a variety of food, clothing, jewelry and many other products and information. There was the traditional Mexican fare, with tacos, burritos, tortas and roasted corn, in addition to funnel cakes, corn dogs, ice cream treats and other festival food. A number of local groups performed, including the school bands, local folklorico dance groups and some mariachi bands that played traditional songs that encouraged the dancing. Groups from out of the area were featured, including Brinco del Chinelo from Mexico, mariachi group Oro y Plata, and the Moonlighters, which entertained with a mix of traditional and new music. The Shafter Boxing Club held exhibition matches, showing the residents of Shafter why the group has made our small city a major force in youth boxing nationally. The group just came back from Missouri in the last two months with another national title, with “Fast Eddie” Rodriguez capturing another individual national title. In addition to the entertainers and vendors, the event also has become a popular destination for families that have reunions and gatherings. The Argellanos, who have family members that dot the map now, use this event for their reunion every year, letting their family come together from their different homes, stretching from Shafter and Bakersfield to Arizona. “This is a chance for us to not only celebrate our heritage, but also for us to come together as a family, giving us a chance to see family we might see only this one time every year,” said Raul Argellano, who was here from Yuma, Ariz. “I love this event, and I love this town.” Another local who was reminiscing about his heritage and childhood was Richard Rivas, Sr. Rivas was here with Sylvia Leon posted online comments suggesting that Shafter had an arsonist “running amok” in town.

Assistant Chief of Police Diana Barnett said that while there have been a few fires in a short stretch in Shafter, they do not appear to be the work of a single person. “Lynn is no longer employed by the Shafter Police Department, so I don’t know where she is getting her information, but a few of the fires do not appear to be arson,” said Barnett.

She said that the recent fire at a local tax office appears to be the result of too many extension cords overloading a circuit. “The fire at the apartment complex by Don Pepes appears to be some kids that were responsible. Yes, there have been some fires in recent months, but none of them at this time have been officially deemed to be arson. We are letting the Kern County Fire Investigators do their jobs.”

Barnett agreed with another post by Yoshikawa that residents should be alert and aware of their surroundings. “If they see something suspicious, they should not confront anyone if they see someone doing something unlawful. They should contact law enforcement agencies and let us take care of the situation,” said Barnett.

Gonzales. Romero said that, “The need for the Resource Officer is not only because of the problems recently with some students behaviorally, but also because of the views of officers from the students”

Romero said that she was saddened recently when she saw the way her students were reacting to our Shafter Police Officers. “When my kids were growing up in Shafter, we had a Resource Officer on the campuses, and the students were taught and shown that our officers are friends and can be trusted and relied on. Today, a lot of the students run from those officers. It just saddens me. I want to get the relationship between the Shafter Police Department and the students of the Richland School District be one of trust and community.”

Richland’s CFO Martin Rodriguez echoed Romero’s comments, saying that it hurts him to see the attitude that a lot of students have when it comes to the Police Department. He said that he is hoping that the relationship could become one of friendship and also include programs that would engage the students with the Police Department, building that trust on and off campus.

The City Council also recognized city employees to recognize Public Works Week and City Administration Week, which highlighted the outstanding contributions made to the city by the City Clerk staff that works so hard to keep the city operating in such a positive way. Public Works Department was thanked for their dedication and work to revitalize the city, its streets, and the progress made in keeping our city beautiful and functioning at a prime level.

Richland Superintendent Rosa Romero spoke during Public Comment about the approval of the Resource Officer that will be on Richland School District campuses.

Law enforcement frustrated with 'justice'

Gomez, age 23, from Wasco, was arrested for an outstanding warrant in connection with an ongoing sexual assault exploitation of minors investigation.

“This individual is the same Diego Emanuel Gomez from our previous meeting where I shared he had been arrested for various alike charges concerning a different victim.”

On May 2nd, Damien Torres, a repeat offender, was arrested.

“In the last six months, this is the third time presenting on him where he has been arrested for various similar charges.”

“This individual again and again and again continues to get arrested, continues to have his bail reduced, bond out, where he is currently out of custody on three pending felony cases and now in custody on this new one,” said Sergeant Shinn.

“This highlights the issues in our community that law enforcement is facing on the fact that we are out here dealing unfortunately with the same individuals repeatedly because of the state of our current criminal justice system.”

Mayor Reyna commended him for the arrests that have been made.

“I know it is an uphill battle because these people are just on a revolving door and keep committing the same crimes.”

A comparison of statistics between March and April showed that numbers were down for the following: CFS (calls for service) from 986 to 842, total arrests from 72 to 60, citations (traffic/parking) from 96 to 42, patrol checks from 171 to 83 and narcotic related cases from 21 to 10.

Chief Appleton from the Kern County Fire Department reported that there would be 15 new firefighters graduating.

“We are behind the number of people that we have. It has been difficult to hire and keep firefighters, so we will have a new academy in June and maybe another in November.

“We are working hard to get our personnel numbers back up and are excited to see these new firefighters out in the field.”

There was a brief presentation proclaiming the 53rd Annual Professional Municipal Clerks week as May 1-7.

“We extend further appreciation to our professional municipal clerks for the vital services they perform and their exemplary dedication to the communities and organizations they represent,” said Mayor Reyna.

“Congratulations to our clerks.”

“Our clerical staff is amazing, and I don’t know what I would do without them,” said Councilmember Vincent R. Martinez.

Council meetings will now be held live and in-person beginning on May 17th.

You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. Lady Generals outscore opponents 34-0

The Shafter Press

The Shafter High Lady Generals softball team took a shutout win last week as they blanked the McFarland Cougars in two games by a combined score of 34-0. On April 29, Shafter shutout the Cougars, 16-0, following that performance on May 2 with an 18-0 victory.

In Friday's win, freshmen Miranda Asencio and Cassidy Torres combined to pitch a one-hit shutout of the Cougars. On the offensive side, the Lady Generals had eight players with at least two hits in the game. Leading the way was Serenity Angulo, who went a perfect 4-4 at the plate, with six RBIs.

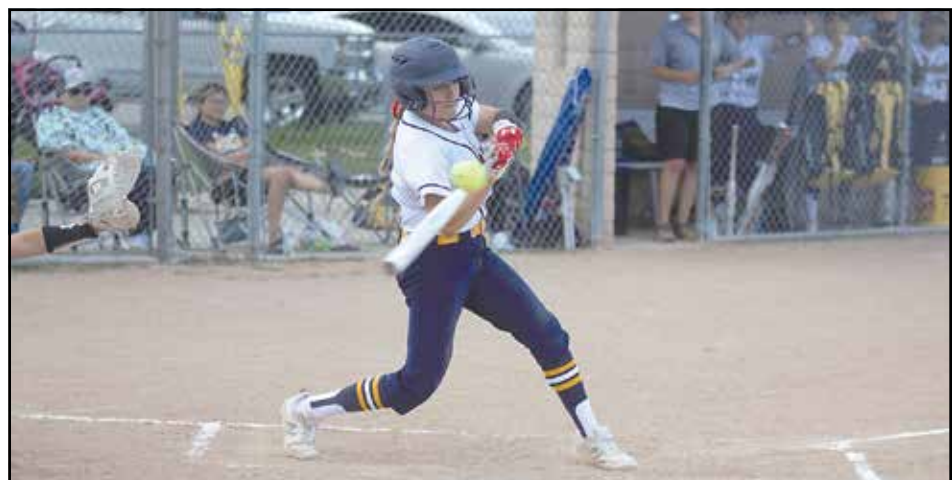

They also had an outstanding game in the field, committing no errors, while keeping all but three Cougar players off of the bases.

SHAFTER

On Tuesday afternoon, the Lady Generals started the game with six runs in the first inning, and never looked back. They scored at least two runs in every inning, ending the game with six more runs in the fifth inning.

Torres led the way, going a perfect 3-3 at the plate. On the mound, Torres and Asencio bettered their appearance on Friday, combining for a perfect game against the Cougars. They allowed no Cougar batters to reach first base.

The Lady Generals are now 6-3 in South Sequoia League play, gearing up for the upcoming Central Section Division V playoffs, where Shafter is currently ranked number two in the division. The Lady Generals are assured of a high seed for the playoffs, making it a likelihood of getting a homefield advantage for the majority of team morale, the team's new coach said.

"If anything, I believe it will strengthen the team and encourage them to play harder in anticipation of returning to Wasco in 2023," said Reserve head coach Christian Carmouche.

The team had many plans for the city of Wasco, including participating in local community service.

"We still plan to do that, but it will be more difficult to do with our schedule now," Carmouche said.

"At first, I was not happy with having to leave Wasco. However, I believe it will be an opportunity to stay close and keep the team within arms reach of Wasco," said Reserve player and assistant coach Ryan Osborne.

"I love the city of Wasco, and we have a connection with our fans here, but in my opinion, Bakersfield is a good local alternative."

On a positive note, Sam Lynn Ballpark in Bakersfield will provide the team with their own clubhouse.

"The ballpark has a really cool stadium and is near many resources. Hopefully, we will draw our fans. It is only a short drive away," said Osborne.

"It is a good way to still see the Wasco Reserve play in California and build up the team for next season," said Carmouche.

Their first home game will be on Thursday, May 26, in Bakersfield at Sam Lynn.

Spring training and tryouts begin on May 18. It is expected that there will be 30 players trying to make the team. Of that, 22-24 players will be selected for the season roster.

A meet and greet with fans is scheduled for Thursday, May 19, from 4 to 6 p.m. at the Pizza Factory.

All of the players will be there, and management staff and veterans that are returning to the team.

"We look forward to getting to know the community and keeping them behind us," said Carmouche.

"Although we will not play in Wasco, we would still love for our fans to come to see us," said Dunn. "We also hope to attract new followers that we can count on for next season."

Christian Carmouche and Ryan Osborne

"No matter where we go, we will still be the city of Wasco's team when we play in Arizona, Colorado and New Mexico. Even though we will not be playing in Wasco, we will be playing for something bigger than ourselves," said Carmouche.

Still, there are challenges.

"In order for Wasco Reserve to be successful, it will have to take the full support of our small community to be able to sustain a professional team of this capacity," said Serna.

"Sadly, this is not always the case."

HOW TO ADVERTISE EFFECTIVELY AND ECONOMICALLY

Our sales representatives are pleased to help you compose the most effective ad at a minimum cost. Here are two key points to remember about your ads:

1. If it's an item you're selling, remember to include as much information as possible The more potential buyers know about the item you have for sale, the more interest they have in calling you.

2. Our reputation for Classified Advertising results is excellent. But not every potential buyer will read your ad on the same day. The majority of our private party advertisers take advantage of our discount rates. This simply means that you order your ad for two consecutive issues, but should you get the results you desire before the ad has expired, you may call and cancel the ad and be refunded for the days the ad did not appear. Except for GR - no refunds or changes accepted.

GENERAL POLICY

1. Rates and deadlines subject to change without notice.
2. The Shafter Press and Wasco Tribune make every effort to avoid errors in advertisements. Each ad is carefully read back for approval. However, mistakes sometimes slip through. We ask that you check your ad carefully. If you should find an error, report it to the Classified Department right away by calling 661-292-5100 and asking for Classified. We regret that we cannot be responsible for more than one incorrect publication if you do not call the error to our attention. The Shafter Press and Wasco Tribune cannot be liable for an amount greater than the amount paid for such advertising.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR BUSINESS..

The undersigned caused said Notice of Default and Election to Sell to be recorded in the county where the real property is located. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 833-561-0243 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit this Internet Web site WWW.SALES.BDFGROUP.COM for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case 00000009319252. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call 833-561-0243, or visit this internet website WWW.SALES.BDFGROUP.COM using the file number assigned to this case 00000009319252 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase.
